

Upcoming Continuing Education Seminars with Jeffrey Yuen

Course Topic: Neurology and Chinese Medicine

Presenter: Jeffrey Yuen comes directly from a Daoist lineage and trained under the Daoist priest, Yuen, learning among other healing arts, Chinese herbal medicine. Yuen was invited by NCCAOM to be among a group of prominent practitioners, to write and review questions during the development of the NCCAOM herbal exam and also served on their Finalization Committee

Program Description: As Chinese medicine continues to become integrated into the West, there are growing efforts to interface its rich resources with the Western medical paradigm. With the intentions that both systems can contribute enormously to each other – garnering both respect and enhanced healing potentials, clinicians are motivated to “learn” how to utilize and benefit from their respective wisdoms. One facet of Chinese medicine is their extensive understanding of feng-wind and its impact on motor activity, cognitive function, and emotional responses. This link is often made through the central nervous system with the brain and the spine as the focal areas, as well as their connections to the peripheral nerves, within Western medicine. Coming from a Chinese medical perspective, this seminar will explore the integration of its theories into the study of neurological conditions, especially chronic degenerative diseases, such as Parkinson’s, cerebral palsy, multiple sclerosis, and Alzheimer’s. More importantly, the strategies in treating and managing these issues will be examined and discussed.
