

ACUPUNCTURE & EMERGENCIES with Jeffrey Yuen

Sunday June 9, 2012 (10-6pm)

Program Description

Medical emergencies are addressed by all systems of medicine, including Chinese medicine. Yet acupuncture in the West is not fully appreciated or even utilized during acute medical emergencies. This one-day workshop will discuss the role of acupuncture in treating conditions that requires immediate attention, including windstroke, hemorrhaging, chest pain, desertion, and collapse syndrome. In addition, considerations and factor regarding poor prognosis will be discussed.

Goals & Objectives

- (1) To discuss the dynamics involving the sever loss of qi and blood, resulting in desertion and collapse
- (2) To understand the nature of stagnation, resulting in pain
- (3) To evaluate the severity of a condition

Detailed Agenda

10:00 – 10:45am	Introduction to Emergency Care in Chinese Medicine
10:45 – 11:30am	Desertion & Collapse Syndrome
11:30 – 11:45am	Break
11:45 – 12:30pm	Xi-Cleft Points and their Role in Emergencies
12:30 – 1:30pm	Lunch
1:30 – 2:15pm	Treatment of Acute Emergency Conditions Involving Pain
2:15 – 3:00pm	Treatment of Acute Emergency Conditions Involving Loss of Qi, Blood & Fluids
3:00 – 3:15pm	Break
3:15 – 4:00pm	Treatment of Acute Emergency Conditions Involving Loss of Qi, Blood & Fluids (Continued)
4:00 – 4:45pm	Nine Points to Return Yang
4:45 – 5:30pm	Factors Indicating Grave or Poor Prognosis
5:30 – 6:00pm	Questions & Answers